

Queen Ad-Rock

Sonia Hayden

They say that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery so we sure hope Ad-Rock thinks so!

Sonia slings dope rhymes on stage as the critically acclaimed Beastie Boy in the female fronted tribute act Sheastie Boys. Not only can this woman spit some lines with impressive Ad-Rock like whiney accuracy, she also drums for folk and indie pop Bay Area bands Dreamdate, Yea-Ming and The Rumours, and The Oilies.

She honed her rapping skills by being obsessed with Licensed to Ill, Paul's Boutique and Check Your Head as a young teenager and realized her dream of rapping on stage during the annual Sacramento Halloween Show.
